Volume Seventeen

We, the class of 1960, deem it an honor and a pleasure to dedicate the Proctorian to you, Our Parents. You have tried to give us the things you did not have; you have been patient, understanding and helpful when we scorned your advice; you have successfully guided our foot-steps forward into the path of life.

Thanks, Mom! Thanks, Dad!

To our faithful sponsors, Miss Florence Willett and Mrs. Eunice DeBarge, we wish to extend our thanks for their unceasing help during our high school years.

"Our Town, Our School" - This is the theme of the 1959-1960 Proctorian. The school's standards are determined by the town in which it is located. With this in mind, the Proctorian staff wishes to pay tribute to our town, Proctor, which has helped make our school one of the state's finest.

Proctor is located in the central part of Vermont. It is a town built around the marble industry and is proud to claim the title, "Marble Center of the World." Our town offers its citizens beautiful churches and marble buildings, exceptional recreational facilities and the heritage of a good reputation.

We are proud of our school: in sports, in scholarship, and in the production of good citizens. We hope that this Proctorian will give the reader a more complete appreciation of what our town and our school has to offer.

MESSAGE

Congratulations and best wishes to each of you graduates, Class of 1960, Proctor High.

Your senior year is universally significant. It is the year during which man boasts of reaching the moon with a missile that may usher in tremendous changes for the world we now know.

Young people now face the challenge of matching the advance of technical science and space ventures with ways of keeping our society in balance. To hold freedom secure will take sturdy citizenship, clear thinking, and wise decisions.

As you add to your present education through training and experience, may we always have one common bond, memories of our high school days, our teachers, and the association with schoolmates and others at Proctor High.

Frank O. Stiles
Superintendent of Schools
